

The Cranberry News

©wondercliparts.com

So, the long weekend is finally here! First on our list is the July 1st parade in Westville! Our float will be decorated tonight, all we need are the people to be on it!! Everyone interested in joining us can meet us on MacKay Street (just off of spring Garden Road) at the house across from the graveyard. Everyone is welcome, just remember to bring your enthusiasm!

Because Westville is the place to be on July 1st, we will hold our celebrations on July 2nd. Starting at 2:00, minute to win it and kids games. Traditional games, tug of war, sac races and relay races will be played. Adults feel free to join in!

And for the laugh to last all summer, at 6:00, we will be hosting the Miss Cranberry Pageant. I am sure we will have lots of contestants, and lots of audience members. This year, the audience gets to decide—every vote counts!! Contestants, please register with Janet so you can get your stage number!!

The talent show will be held during this time as well.

Volume 6, Issue 6
June 30th 2011

- HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO OUR CAMPERS TOO !
- DUSTIN REDMOND - Happy Birthday buddy

- BRENNON GOSWELL 14!!! Happy Birthday Buddy!!
- BRENDA WALSH - Happy Birthday—29, again right?
- ALLY O'Connor— otherwise known as Cranberry's employee—the big 19 !

The name of the game is to have fun!! All contests can express their own individual style, just keep in mind, the lower torso must be covered! :) All contestants should keep in mind that their register name should be unique, and stage presence is everything!! A beauty booth will be available with some cranberry beauty experts on hand to help out with make up, hair and attire. The winner will be named by being the contestant with the most votes from the audience. Go get em!!!

Pageant contestants

Congratulations kids!!!
Good job all you Cranberry kids! Best of luck and enjoy your summer!

CRANFEST 2011

Well it looks like this years Cranfest will be the best one yet! Bands are booking, people are booking. Spread the word! It looks like Scratch 45 and Four Fit will both be playing on August 19th, both very talented, high energy bands. Can't wait!
