

The Cranberry News

June 8, 2012
Volume 6, issue 3

Are you a redneck??

So, its our first annual redneck celebrations! With the promise of sunny skies and warmer temperatures, lets all have fun after such a wet and dreary week! (Some traditional redneck games have been modified to suit the cranberry contestants)

- 1:00—Redneck games—
 - toilet seat toss
 - peanut spitting contest
 - beer can stacking
 - peanut butter eating

Updates...

With all the wet, wet weather we have had this week, the pool liner scheduled to be put in this week will be postponed until next week. We hope to have it up and running very

- contest
 - brick throw
 - arm pit serenade contest
- 5:00—redneck potluck—bring your best possum pie or alligator stew, road kill casserole, the possibilities are endless!

For all those entering the redneck invention contest, the inventions will be on display for judging during our potluck.

9:00—redneck shindig

soon!

Thank you to everyone who is doing such a terrific job with our new garbage sorting centers. It is a lot of work, but thank you to everyone who is doing their part. Your efforts are appreciated!

Dance away! Be sure to bring your best redneck jokes and more games will be played through out the night! Prizes awarded for best all around redneck, and best redneck invention.

I am my own grand dad!!!

Please remember to sign in all overnight guests, for insurance purposes.

Need recipe submissions as well as birthdays and any news you would like to have published!!!

Cranberry Walkers
Saturday and Sunday
mornings at 10:00, meeting at the office, walking to Big Island (just before where beach starts).
Everyone welcome!!

Committee Meeting

Sunday June 17th

At "A" frame 1:00

For all who expressed interest in lending a hand in planning activities/events and purchases. Thanks to all who volunteered!